Dr. Vivekanand Jha

We were detached, isolated, stranded, thirsty, withered and sick like a plant in a lonely and ever ending desert.

Science incarnated and laid down its amiable and amicable web with an electronic needle and thread and beaded the assorted of the world like pearls into a priceless garland.

Distance howsoever, and discrimination whatsoever on the bases of sex, caste, creed or country now sink with a mere click of mouse.
